- ★ We have collected choice stock from all parts of the world and have spared no effort to build a collection of world recognition.
- ★ We offer to correspond with you on each and any item listed, whereby we may discuss with you any problems you may have in the culture or Orchids.
- ★ We present our booklet to you with the desire of having an opportunity to serve you.
- ★ We sincerely believe you will like our method in the standardization of Orchids. We believe this policy will bring many pleasant years of Orchid growing to our satisfied customers.

Lc. Frank Lind

Step by step we are nearing our goal, reaching our desire in the perfection of an Orchid. Along our road of progress we often meet obstacles that have to be overcome. Perseverance alone will guide us forever onward to reach our ultimate goal. When we arrive at our goal we often find that we have erred en route and try for something better. This applies on all roads leading to success in the culture of Orchids. The Orchid itself starts from a minute seed always pushing forward to obtain recognition as a mature plant.

You, the Amateur, are looking for support on your problems toward a better knowledge in the growing of the aristocrat of Flowers.

You, the Connoisseur, are forever looking for something better than that which you now have.

We sincerely hope we have served you both by preparing our assorted listings in this booklet.

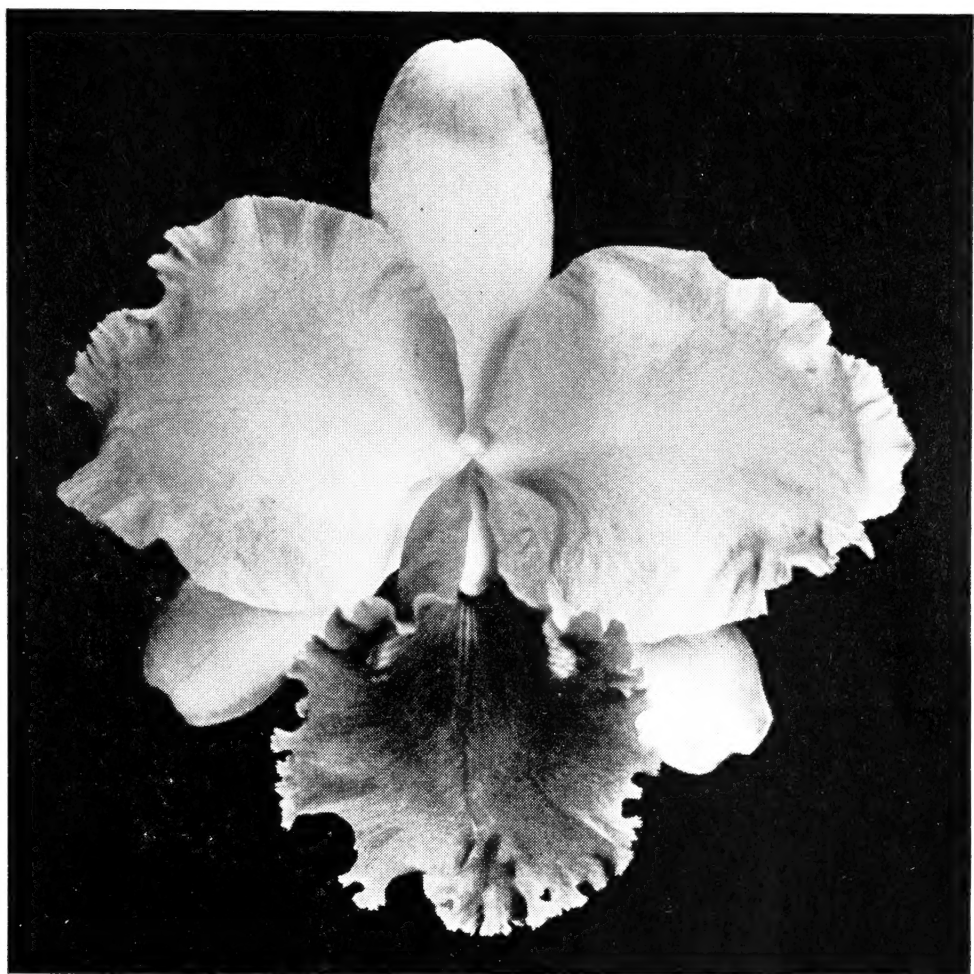

WE ARE PROUD OF OUR LAVENDERS

ACHIEVEMENT IN SEEDLINGS

From our stock of choice hybrids we have carefully selected the best in stud plants. Strong vigorous growers coincide with form, color, and texture when we make our selection of breeders.

Our seedling illustrations show vigor of growth from flasked plants to four inch pots. Note the vigor of growth of our plant bearing a seed pod on the following page. A list of seed pods in development will be sent to those interested in the purchase of seed, as we continue to make our crosses.

We shall always ship only strong established plants in order that they will arrive in good condition to eventually grow on to a healthy plant worthy of any collection. Thus our standard of selected seedlings will be recognized by all Orchid fanciers.

Our collection of stud plants make our seedlings the best obtainable.

Plant purchasers today want assured satisfaction on all orders. We will give you that assurance by helping you select your plants before you purchase. We have illustrated opposite this page three types of plants that may be ordered. The price will vary according to the type and size of the plants.

When you place an order we offer to correspond with you in regard to the particular type you want. In this manner you will be informed as to the actual size pot, number of bulbs, and general information on the plants you order. Some of the stock we have listed is not available at the present time, however back bulbs and divisions will be forthcoming on many of them in the future.

Reservations will be made on scarce items in the order that they are received and you will be notified when they are ready. We have made a general listing of our plants as to parents and season of bloom. Detailed information will be given on any questions received.

We also can select for the amateur a small collection of plants that will grow easily under your care. These selections will be made by correspondence with the amateur. These collections are available in lots of five, ten, and fifteen plants, priced at $20.00, $35.00 and $50.00 per lot respectively.

We also have available collections for the Connoisseur, which will be available upon request.

We also offer a service to Orchid lovers in that we will sow your seed for only $3.00 per flask. We do not guarantee the germination of your seed. Flasks will be shipped to you collect by whichever carrier you choose.

Lists of seed and seedlings, will be mailed in the future as they become available.

We have available for your use an order and reservation blank at the back of our catalogue. Send this form to us and we can then file your order and reservations. All prices listed are subject to change without notice.
